

AmeriCorps★NCCC's DC campus has partnered with the Library of Congress on the Veterans History Project. The Veterans History Project was created in the year 2000 by the United States Congress to record and submit as many veterans' personal stories as possible. Recorded interviews, as well as first-person written narratives, diaries, and personal photographs will be cataloged, digitized, and stored at the Library of Congress for years to come.

The primary focus of the project is on first-hand accounts of United States Veterans from the following 20th Century wars:

- World War I (1914-1920)
- World War II (1939-1946)
- Korean War (1950-1955)
- Vietnam War (1961-1975)
- Persian Gulf War (1990-1995)
- Afghanistan and Iraq Conflicts (2001-Present)

In addition, those U.S. citizen civilians who were actively involved in supporting war efforts, such as war industry workers, USO workers, flight instructors, medical volunteers, etc., are invited to share their valuable stories.

AmeriCorps★NCCC hopes to complete 2,500 interviews by the end of July 2006. If you or someone you know is interested in sharing their story for the Veterans History Project, please contact AmeriCorps★NCCC via email or phone to find out how or to set up an interview.

AmeriCorps★NCCC is a full-time, team-based, residential program for men and women ages 18-24. Members live on one of five campuses and do volunteer projects in the areas of disaster relief, education, environment, public safety, and unmet needs.

If you would like more information regarding the Veterans History Project or would like to view veteran interviews that have already been submitted, please take a look at the Library of Congress VHP website at: <http://www.loc.gov/vets>.